To: Prescott Pro Sound Clients

January 2020

Hi, my name is Preston Doyle. I wanted to introduce myself as the new owner of Prescott Pro Sound. It is my great honor to take the reins of this wonderful company that has successfully produced hundreds of events for many years. I look forward to continuing the quality and standards that you have come to know. My vision is to continue to deliver quality sound productions and serve this great community with a true joy and passion for my craft. Prescott Pro Sound has been under the leadership of a skillful sound engineer who has brought this company to the successful production company that it is today. I'm thrilled to work hard to continue the legacy of this past leadership. Change can be challenging; however, rest assured that the same crews and service will remain in place, even an appearance from Ted at times, with a few additional systems in place to help better serve our great clients. Feel free to reach out to me anytime if in need of service or if you simply want to connect as I would love to get to meet and know every one of you! In the meantime take a trip to our website to get to know the leads of this wonderful company.

We invite all clients to create a profile/account with our new systems so that we can provide the best service possible.
